

Grace Enough

© Aaron Logan 2003

(verse 1)

When life becomes the most
Bitter cup of all
And fighting seems not worth the trouble
You struggle to retain
All you can contain
And still you find yourself without peace

(chorus 1& 2)

If there's grace enough for you
Is there grace enough for me?
Because it's all I've got to put my hope in

And I cannot see a door
But I'm fighting to believe
That there is something more
Something greater for me

(verse 2)

Now the rain has turned
To hail and snow and sleet
And I can't see a thing beyond my arm's length

I will not place my trust
In what I feel or see
I am only moved by what I believe

(last chorus)

If there's grace enough for you
Then there's grace enough for me
Cause it's all I've got to put my hope in
And I cannot see a door
But I'm fighting to believe
That there is something more
Something greater for me
